Spoiler Alert

In a land of precise calculations under the soil, a Spacer murder has disturbed the delicate society. Who better to fix it than a robot and human duo? Elijah Baley and R. Daneel Olivaw must try to bring justice to the murder, all along having the murderer under their noses. With Elijah's character as a stubborn police officer who repeatedly suspects the humanoid robot, R. Daneel Olivaw, this book has just the right amount of humor and mystery. Isaac Asimov's book 'Caves of Steel' has a surprise ending when the man who commissioned the investigation turns out to be the man they're looking for.

TV Time

Little does anyone know, the son and daughters of the fairytale fantasy characters we know are getting ready to rule their stories. Here we have Apple White, the daughter of Snow White. And her supposed enemy, Raven Queen, daughter of the Evil Queen. But does Raven really want to follow her evil destiny? Or has she flown the coop? Learn all this and more on 'Ever After High', available on Netflix.

Popcorn Pick

The movie of this month is 'Onward'. As the young elves set out on a quest to bring their father back to life for a day, your eyes will be glued to the scene. With exciting action, dramatic victories, and tearful reunions, and beautifully drawn magic, Onward is the go to movie for 6 and above.

Important People

Famous Idols

Walt Disney was the person who dreamt up and created the world of Disney that we know today. You may know this because of watching Disney movies such as Mulan, The Lion King or Incredibles 1 and 2. One reason Mr. Disney is famous is the amazing detail he put into his first movie, Snow White. He is a good idol because he persevered through hard times like the Depression. If you do that, you can accomplish anything! And remember, Korona Times is the newspaper to go to when you need to spend money as a big time movie maker!

Nurses are an important part of society, especially now. They are people who help you by giving you check-ups, and cure you when you're sick. Without their expertise, there'd be a lot more sick people in the world.

Creative Arts

Materials: a thin, fat and medium sided brush, 4 paint colours, and a paper(Optional: Envelope).

1. Write a one line or short message for someone in your darkest colour (e.g. Thank you, you saved me, BFFs...)
2. Dip the fat brush in the brightest paint and then abruptly dab it on the piece of paper. Then do the same for the rest.
3. Trace your message if it is hard to see.
4. Mail it to someone IF YOU WANT.

If you have a... SIBLING

- ✓ Make a drawing and cut it like a puzzle. Then exchange your puzzles with your sibling and try to solve them.
- ✓ Make up an imaginary world, where you are the main characters.
- ✓ Use pillows, blankets and more to make a fort or tent.

- ✓ Come up with a game with your own rules and play with a gameboard of your own design.
- ✓ Have a contest (reading, eating, drawing, holding your breath...).
- ✓ Put on a play for your parents.

Why don't You...

Go biking! Plan a scenic route for you and your family. Search online to find a fun place or a nice route you'd like to visit or go on.. Once you've found one, plan a route and make a map. Show them to your family, get your helmet on, and turn those wheels!

Stuck at home?

Make your own holiday! What's your favorite thing to do? (E.x. drawing, writing, baking...) Make that what you must do on this holiday. But why? Are their spirits you must expel, a god you must honour? Is it so the seasons change, that sweets still taste good? Also, when? Once you have chosen, tell everyone who can participate the date and what to bring. Happy Holidaying!

Now It's Time To Mix It Up!

Today I will be making a _____
_____. For this project, I will only use _____ materials.

I will use _____

First, I will _____
_____. Then, secondly I will _____

_____.
Next, _____

_____. And then lastly
(but not least) I will, _____

_____.
And, finally, I will be done!

If you would like us to mention your project idea, send an email to zoyak@khanlabschool.org or seeratd@khanlabschool.org containing information on what you call it, what you need, and the steps you need to take in order to make it.

Real News At Last!

An Exclusive Interview with the Coronavirus

I sat down with Coronavirus, and began bluntly. I asked, “Why do you hate soap so much?”

Coronavirus replied, “First, you can call me Corona. Also, soap is me and my clone’s SWORN ENEMY! It always has explosives. It blows my children up! And they’re extremely explodable!”

“Okay... But I still have more questions. First, how do you like jumping in human bodies like monkeys?”

Corona replied, “I’m not a monkey. I have an extremely complicated process. First, I shape myself into a key that fits all the locks on you.”

“What do you mean, locks?” I asked.

“You all have little tiny locks all over your body that germs can’t go to unless they have the key. Once I’m inside, I mass produce exact copies of myself. They unlock all of your locks inside and out. And find all your treasures.”

“Okay...” I say. “One more question. What happened to Corona 1 to 18?”

Corona got up and mumbled a barely audible sentence. “Really, you know nothing about me.”

Coronavirus Cases

Guess what, South Korea has no new cases! I guess their magicians are better than ours. Also, this came in: Tajikistan has zero confirmed cases and the British Virgin Islands has only one death! How do they do it?

But sadly, there must be a red zone leader on the coronavirus scoreboard. Which is the United States in the top in a sad way. So basically, in the bottom. Hey, guys over in Tajikistan! Can you lend us your super magicians?

What Can YOU Do?

It can be helpful to:

- Wash your hands often. Soap kills Corona!
- Bring sanitizer wherever you go. It also helps kill the Coronavirus.
- Try to minimize the amount of cloth and/or open skin touching other people and objects.
- Stay six feet away from others. If you bike, challenge yourself to race while staying six feet away from others!
- Wear masks whenever you are out of the house. If you’re bored, decorate yours! Draw flowers of a monster mouth on your mask. Now you’ll stand out from the crowd!
- Try not to cough or sneeze on objects that others might/will touch. This prevents the spreading of the coronavirus.

Imagine If...

Imagine if you could fill a spray gun with soap, make the hose turn on with a snap of your fingers, and control the wind! Now, imagine a person coming down the street. You grab your Anest Iwata Supernova and spray them with soap. Then, you snap your fingers, grab the hose and wash them down. Call on the wind to dry them off! Then everybody would be safe from the Coronavirus... And, probably, still soaking wet!
